

WIFE CAN'T SEARCH HUSBAND'S POCKETS

SPANISH ROMANCE WINS NO DOUBLOONS

Cincinnati Judge Declares That Marriage Gives no Right to Mid-night Hunt for Money.

CINCINNATI. O., Aug. 26.—Miss Anna Chapman intrusted her gold watch to John White to take to a watchmaker for repairs. Finding the repair shop closed he carried it home with him, and that night his wife, searching his pockets, found it. She returned it to him, but Miss Chapman had her arrested, giving it up to the watch. Miss Chapman did not desire to prosecute. Mrs. White did, however, by Judge Dumont, to whom a warning not to search her husband's pockets in the future was given.

As a result of the incident, White and his wife have separated and divorce proceedings are threatened. Judge Dumont holds his woman's right to go through her husband's clothes, and says this case should be taken as a warning by all wives.

St. Louis Business Man Is Notified That Beautiful Girl Relative Is Destitute.

IS AN OFT-TOLD STORY, THIS

United States Government Has Taken Official Notice of Remarkable Piece of Fiction.

James W. Dye of 2912 Sullivan avenue, secretary of the St. Louis Hay and Grain Co., is the latest St. Louis man to be notified by correspondence in Madrid, Spain, that the beautiful young girl relative is destitute and deserves financial assistance.

Juan Robles is the name given by the writer. He tells the same story that various St. Louisans have been told in letters from Spain. The beautiful girl's father died in prison. On his death-bed he told another convict of his beautiful, destitute daughter. The other convict told Robles also giving him the name of a relative in America.

Dye informed Mr. Dye that the beautiful girl destitute in Madrid is Mary Dye, un orphan.

Mr. Dye, instead of concluding at once that the letter was a swindle, as other St. Louisans have done on receipt of similar missives, sent the letter to the state department, Washington, with the request that it be investigated through the minister at Madrid.

Thursday afternoon, the state department forwarded a copy to Mr. Dye, according to a special dispatch to the Post-Dispatch saying that the matter was a swindle and that the man who had hoped he would, through pity, send money, aid of the fictitious orphan.

"I have yet received the notice from the state department," Mr. Dye said, "but the letter was a swindle, as other named names have been given to me, but I thought it would be better to ascertain officially if there could possibly be any personal connection to the girl and claiming relationship to me. I have no idea where the writer obtained my name, unless from some directory or catalogue."

MUST GO TO CATHOLIC SCHOOLS

Children of Cincinnati Diocese Not Allowed to Attend Non-Sectarian Institutions.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

SINCINNATI. O., Aug. 26.—On Sunday morning next there will be read from the pulpits of all the Catholic churches in this diocese a circular letter from Archbishop Elder, ordering that the children of Catholic parents shall be sent to Catholic schools. Among other things the letter says:

"In places where there is a Catholic school parents are obliged under the pain of mortal sin to send their children to it. If they do not go, not only in case of children who have not yet made their first communion, but also in case of those who have received it, confession is as shown by the following:

"Confessors are hereby forbidden to give absolution to who, without permission of the archbishop, send their children to non-Catholic schools, unless such parents agree either to withdraw their child from a school at the time to be fixed by the confessor or at least agree within two weeks from date of presentation of the case to the archbishop and abide by his decision.

"If they refuse to do either one or the other the confessor cannot give them absolution, and should he attempt to do so such absolution would be null and void. Cases of this kind are thereby reserved by us until Sept. 1, 1904."

BOER WAR EXTRA FIGHT.

Special Performance for the Boer War on Saturday Morning.

Tomorrow will be Liberal Arts day at the World's Fair and a big crowd is expected. In order to meet the demands of the populace who daily overcrowd the Boer war it has been decided by the management to give a special performance at 11 a.m.

At every matinee during this week a large number of people have been able to stand around notwithstanding the fact that the large amphitheater, which is one of the biggest in the country, seats over 10,000 persons.

This performance is being given at the special request of the Liberal Arts Club, who are making arrangements for the benefit of people who are interested in the afternoon exhibits who have an opportunity of also witnessing the Boer War. This innovation, on the part of the Boer war management, should surely meet with popular approval.

BUILT HIS TOMB 40 YEARS AGO

At 83, Death Finally Demands Its Use.

Building a vault when in middle life that might be prepared to receive his body when he should die, William Watts, a farmer living near Alton, waited 40 years before occupying his tomb, his use. Mr. Watts died at the age of 83 years.

When 40 years old Mr. Watts was taken sick and was in the opinion that he would not live long. He accordingly had constructed a costly vault in the city cemetery in Alton, planning that a resting place for his body should be ready before he died. For 40 years the vault remained unused. Mr. Watts is survived by his widow and six children.

FROLIC, FUN AND EXCITEMENT.

On Liberal Arts Day, World's Fair grounds Saturday, Aug. 27. Something doing every minute on this day. Balloon race, floral parade, flight of homing pigeons, hundreds of sights startling to the eye and amusing to the mind. Special.

To every person visiting the Liberal Arts building on this day a coupon entitling the holder to half rate admission to places of amusement on the Pike will be given.

CAPTURED AFTER THREE YEARS CHASE

Telephone Message Brings Arrest of Man Charged With Killing in August, 1901.

A telephone message to a saloon in the neighborhood of the place where he had been staying brought about the arrest of Frank Lee, for whom the police have been searching since Aug. 12, 1901, Friday, upon a tip-off from a man who had been staying at Lee's home, asking if the car was Lee's car.

The detectives traced the telephone message and arrested Lee near Tenth and Pine streets.

Lee returned to St. Louis Saturday, and has been staying with his brother-in-law, Charles Devine of 4117 Chouteau avenue.

The police learned of his presence there and Detectives Kilian and Whalen watched the house all Thursday night, but Lee did not return.

Lee returned to St. Louis Saturday, and has been staying with his brother-in-law, Charles Devine of 4117 Chouteau avenue.

It is alleged that Lee and Fischer became engaged in a quarrel in the saloon over the payment for a drink, and that during the difficulty Lee struck Fischer with a club, inflicting a wound from which Fischer died the same day at the city hospital. Lee, it is alleged, after the fight, jumped upon a wagon and escaped to East St. Louis, and from there went to Vicksburg, Miss.

MILES UP STRIKE

Its Committee Confers With Packers and Butchers in Effort to Effect a Settlement.

CHICAGO, Aug. 26.—Union leaders and packers today conferred with the committee appointed by the City Council to seek terms of settlement for the stockyards strike. Separate sessions were arranged.

President Donnelly of the Butcher Workers' Union, Matthew Carr of the allied tanned conference board, and Organizer John Fitzpatrick of the Chicago Federation of Labor, were selected to represent the unions. President Donnelly was hopeful.

The packers gathered at the offices of Nelson Morris & Co., where a conference on the proposed attempt to settle the strike by arbitration was held. President Donnelly was a private one, but Alderman Thomas Carey was admitted and remained for almost an hour. Others who attended were T. Conroy, A. J. Co., Edward Wilson, Nelson Morris & Co.; Edward Tilley, McNeil & Tilley; Attorneys Evans, Tilley & Co., and Attorney Uriah, Armour & Co.

Nineteen Catholic clergymen, led by the Rev. Edward Kelly of St. Cecilia's Church, have been in session with President Donnelly. Several of the clergymen had come from other cities. After conferring with the Father Kelly, they decided to offer their services toward the settlement of the strike. It was reported that in other cities great suffering was resulting from the strike, and that the outcome of the conference was given out.

First Appearance of Dandruff a Fore-runner of Future Baldness.

That such is the case has been conclusively proven by scientific research.

Prof. Unna, the noted European skin specialist, declares that dandruff is the burrowed-up cuticle of the scalp, caused by parasites destroying the vitality in the hair bulb. The hair becomes lifeless, and in time, falls out. This can be prevented.

Newbro's Hericide kills this dandruff germ, and restores the hair to its natural softness and abundance.

Hericide is now used by thousands of people—all satisfied that it is the most wonderful hair preparation on the market today.

ST. CHARLES MOVES DOWN TO ST. LOUIS

City Suspends Business and All Her Citizens Come to the World's Fair.

WEEK'S ATTENDANCE BOOMED

Fifty Thousand Greater for Three Days Than for Corresponding Days the Week Before.

The comparison of the attendance at the World's Fair the first three days of this week and in the corresponding days of last week shows conclusively that Missourians have been doing their duty by the Fair during the week chosen for their celebrations.

The figures of the Fair management are not completed for more than the first three days of this week, but during that time 57,975 more people have passed through the gates than on the corresponding days last week. As this is Missouri week, it is considered that the greater number of these are Missourians.

It is estimated that the attendance Thursday and Friday of this week is greater than any other day of the week, although the figures are not obtainable. It is thought that by Saturday night the week's attendance will be at least 150,000 more than last week.

Excursion rates on the Wabash and on the electric railway brought practically the entire town of St. Charles to St. Louis today to celebrate St. Charles day at the World's Fair. The crowd made up the largest part of the Fair, where a monster parade was held and a grand ball was given in the Missouri building. Business was suspended in St. Charles Thursday night until Saturday morning to give the people an opportunity to celebrate the occasion.

The visitors organized into a long procession in front of the bank building near the Lindell entrance at 11 o'clock, with City Marshal Henry J. Linneur and Sheriff Dierker of St. Charles as grand marshals. The parade moved along the Plaza St. Louis to the grand basin, eastward by the lagoons, past the Plaza Orleans, to the Government building and from thence to the Missouri building.

Leading the parade was a military escort, followed by the marshals. Rummen's military band came next, while Mayor Paule and the city officials of St. Charles occupied the next place in line. The county officials were also there, as was also a long line of St. Charles boys and girls, parrotically attired. Several uniformed associations, Gatzwiller Post, No. 102, G. I. B. Club, Chamber of Commerce, Missouri Women's drill team, and other organizations made a good showing, while many citizens brought their families.

Disbanding at the Missouri building, the members of the parade entered the building, joining the crowd and participating in the exercises to commemorate the day as one to be long remembered in the history of St. Charles.

Presenting gifts at the building and greeted the people, City Attorney Bridgeman responded to the address of welcome. George L. Maie Lund sang a solo, as did also Mrs. Charles H. Kansteiner. Joseph W. Folk and Cyrus P. Walbridge, the two candidates for governor, had been invited to speak, and each addressed the visitors with a few remarks. After a chorus by the St. Charles Liederkranz, Mayor Walther closed the program with a short address.

As soon as the program was ended the grand ball opened on the floor of the Missouri building and scattered to all parts of the Exposition, spending the remainder of the day in sightseeing.

Macou and Washington were greatly in evidence at the Fair Thursday, the day at the Missouri building being given over to the celebration of the birthday of St. Charles. Francis welcomed the visitors and addresses were made by Mayor of Macou and Mayor of Washington. Both towns distributed badges, the Washington souvenir being in the shape of tiny cob pipes. In the evening a dance was given in the Missouri building.

Information has been received by John E. Murphy, secret service officer in charge in St. Louis, of the arrest of Ezra Truett in Fort Worth, Tex. Mr. S. A. Connel has been working on the case for several weeks. Truett is charged with raising a $1 silver certificate and passing several of them at once.

According to the secret service officer Truett has just completed a preliminary trial in the U. S. City of Fort Worth.

He is alleged to have been accompanied by James Berger, a man serving time in the Texas penitentiary in Rocheport, Mo. since he was released from the penitentiary. Berger was arrested in Rocheport, but escaped.

MINISTER STRICKEN AT FAIR.

Dr. Henry Braxton, an aged Episcopal minister who came all the way from London, England, to see the World's Fair, was stricken Thursday at the Inside Inn. Dr. Braxton was in the dining room when he began to suffer from acute indigestion. He fainted while seated at the table and was taken to his room, where he died an hour later.

Dr. Braxton had been at the Fair for 10 days. He had been commissioned by a religious journal to write a story of the Exposition.

He had been ill ever since he arrived in England as soon as possible. Funeral services were held Friday morning in Alexander's under-ground crypt. Dr. Braxton's daughter, who had accompanied him, will return with the body of her father.

The plan to present to each purchaser of a ticket a badge is meeting with general approval. It is believed that in this manner a sense of pride will be instilled in the few, if there are any, who do not wish to go in the movement of their own accord.

It is planned for the Exposition company to design a badge, which will be copyrighted, and one will be presented to each ticket purchaser. The committee believe that many people will buy tickets after the patriotic manner of the Saturday and Sunday hospital campaign.

GIANTS MEET TONIGHT; JEFF 225, MUNROE 209, BETTING IS 10 TO 3 1-2

Champion Pugilist Will Have His First Battle With One of Equal Weight With the Butte Miner—Munroe Slower but as Hard as Steel.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 26.—Tonight Jack Munroe will meet Champion Jim Jeffries in the ring of the Yosemite Athletic Club. The fight should be the greatest that has been seen here since Jeffries and Fitzsimmons battled bloody for eight rounds in the same ring just two years and a month ago.

It will be a battle of giants. The younger Munroe and the veteran Jeffries are the two biggest men that ever clashed in a gloved battle since the history of the prize ring began.

More than at any time since the fight was first talked of local experts are admitting today that Munroe has a chance. The scene of the fight is in the Jeffries training camp, the improvement that he has made under the careful coaching of foxy "Kid" McCoy and, more than all, the stubborn and aggressive temper that he has shown in all of his recent training bouts, have forced even the most enthusiastic followers of the champion to admit that the big fellow is in for the hardest fight of his experience.

Only one fight held here has ever excelled this one as a drawing card—the fight between Jeffries and Corbett, where $5,000 were taken in at the doors before the men entered the ring. The advance sale on this battle tonight has already passed the $20,000, and perhaps before the big bout goes on the record of the club may be broken.

James Croftor, manager, is confidently predicting that this will be the case. The fight will be held in Mechanics' Pavilion, the scene of so many historic battles. In that same ring, where he will face the fighting man tonight, Champion Jeffries has fought and won six of the most important battles of his career.

Munroe, on the other hand, will go into the Mechanics' pavilion as a contestant for the first time in his life. His amateur fights were all at the Olympic Club. His four professional bouts were all fought in small clubs, except the last one with Sharkey, which was pulled off in the big Twenty-second regiment armory of Philadelphia.

The sight of such an ocean of faces as will be turned toward him-tonight will be new to the miner as it will be old to Jeffries.

There will be little to choose between the men in the matter of coolness. Munroe, on many a hard fought football field, playing before the banked up thousands in the grandstands, has trained up nerves of iron. Jeffries has always been cold and emotionless in the heat of battle.

In his fights with Peter Maher, Limerick, and Tom Sharkey, the miner was as cool as any old hand at the fighting game could be. It may be a little different when he meets Jeffries. For two years, or since that affair in Butte, it has been Munroe's desire to beat the giant and to prove that he can do it.

He has been training steadily four months. His whole career, wealth and flavor—or defeat—will rest upon the moment after the ringing of the gong tonight. If his nerves will stand the strain and allow him to fight with all his cunning and strength, then Jeffries will have the hardest task before him that he has ever undertaken.

As for the champion, although this will be the first time he has ever met a man his equal in weight and strength, his ring experience should make it easy for him to start with confidence and fight as deliberately as if in a training bout.

Heretofore the fighters that have been beaten by Jeffries have, with the single exception of Tom Sharkey, been past their prime. Fitzsimmons was getting a little old for Jeffries, and Corbett was sliding back when he was beaten by Fitzsimmons at Carson City. Both Jeffries and Fitzsimmons were outside, for neither of the former champions had the power of punishment that Jeffries could give and come back in their old-time manner. Body blows whipped them both, and only one or two well landed ones were needed to knock them down.

With Munroe it will be a different matter. The miner is as hard an armor plate as Jeffries, and he has the advantage of being a mountaineer. There is not a soft spot in him, for he has not as yet tasted the flesh of the mountain.

Jeffries has himself.

Sharkey, in Philadelphia, knocked Munroe down with a blow that might have easily killed an ordinary man, but Munroe rose in a few seconds, with full energy and speed at his command. He has won his spurs here during his training with the "Kid" McCoy, and he has learned to knock of landing his blows where they did not hit.

Jeffries has been living a life of ease, with occasional sports of training for his health, and he has managed his constitution to show the effects of it.

There will not be a great disparity in size between the fighters as there has been in all of the previous meetings. Jeffries has steadily refused to weigh himself in the presence of any but his own trainer, and, as far as form goes, he believes he balances the beam at 225 pounds, no much reliance can be placed upon their statements. In all probability the giant is bigger even than when he last fought Corbett, and on that occasion he weighed 225 pounds stripped.

Munroe weighs 209 pounds today. He was 206 two years ago, and has taken on three pounds while putting up in his work here.

Cleverness in boxing is concerned, neither of the fighters has Jim Corbett.

But Jeffries has a cleverness of his own, and he has shown it in his last fight with Corbett here he outfoxed him in midring.

Walter Christy, the famous professional boxer, coach of the University track team, says Jeffries is the best leg sprinter and is built for speed in short distance work. Jeff traveled all over the country, and in his last fight with Fitzsimmons, meeting all comers. At that time Fitz taught Jeffries all that he could tell him about boxing, and he is not a greater coach in the world than Fitz.

Munroe is slower on his feet, and more given to waiting and countering straight than Jeff. He hits hard and straight at the mark. His punches are solid.

Although anything but a showy boxer, he has been hitting during his training with the "Kid" McCoy, and he has learned to knock of landing his blows where they did not hit.

Jeffries is a great body puncher. Every blow he cuts home with a vengeance sent in one of those smashers to the ribs done by McCoy and sent him skipping about like a trout.

Munroe says that he will beat Jeffries with body blows as he believes that the life is in the champion since winning the title has weakened him at that point.

JAKE SCHAEFER.

Jake Schaefer, after an absence of two years, has returned. He spent a couple of weeks with his son, Charlie Schaefer, in Chicago. "Wizard" is in excellent health, and according to his statement, is fit to play the challenge of life when the player accepts weeks ago.

"I heard from no one since I made the challenge," said Schaefer, "and am sorry, too, for I was never more in earnest than when I made it. My backers are ready and willing to have me make, and doubtless they are encouraged by my ability to the way my Paris match went.

"That series was the toughest proposition I ever encountered in all my billiard career, and that is saying a great deal.

After the match, I was asked to lead, it looked rather like a torn hope for me, but I surprised myself and my friends when I pulled up and finally passed him."

DANGER IN MILK.

Ordinary cows' milk is especially dangerous in the hot summer months. Disease germs flourish in the temperature, bacteria and germs that breed intestinal diseases are prevalent in milk. The health of babies and children whose sustenance depends on milk is thus gravely endangered.

Is the best solution of the milk problem. It is prepared from the choicest dairies in the famous Fox River Valley and the Oregon County district. The highest scientific and sanitary methods are used in the preparation, the milk being reduced to rich cream by evaporation, and perfectly sterilized. Testimonies to its purity have been given by such authorities as Prof. Haines of Harvard, Dr. Howe of the Chicago Foundations Home, and scores of other noted physicians.

POST-DISPATCH'S EDITORIAL PAGE AND DAILY

Founded by JOSEPH PULITZER. Published by
THE PULITZER PUBLISHING CO., 210-212 N. BROADWAY.

The watch on the Rhine sees nothing yet.
Beat the fair and increase the Fair receipts.

Uncle Joe Cannon has made Vermont sure for Roosevelt.

Secretary of the Navy Morton throws up everything but his appointment when he is on board.

Great as the Exposition is aboriginally and anthropologically, Thunder Bird has gone to bring more Indians.

Is the quality of reform marked "Walbridge" the same that was given St. Louis when Walbridge was mayor?

Charlie Fairbanks will doubtless tell the people of Kansas City, when he speaks there, why so much money that could have been used by the government in preventing great floods has been wasted in unnecessary preparations for unnecessary wars.

A SALESMAN'S PLEA.

One of the army of clerks who make their living in the smaller retail stores writes the Post-Dispatch, urging that the smaller merchants in the hat, shoe, men's furnishing and other lines of business, join the large establishments in proclaiming a full day's holiday for St. Louis Day. And a clerk in one of the small groceries has voiced the same request for the employees of these stores.

It is as much to the interest of the small retail dealer that St. Louis Day be a record-breaking success as it is to that of the large firms. On this occasion St. Louis proposes to show the world what she can do in the way of a personal endorsement of her magnificent Exposition. The half million or more in attendance, which it is hoped to roll up for this day, will be one of the best advertisements for St. Louis trade. It is sure to attract visitors from all over the country, because they will reason that if St. Louis people are so desirous of seeing the Fair, it must be worth seeing. And they will be right.

All the workers who can possibly be spared from necessary employments should get the full day and be encouraged to go to the Fair. It will be the only full day that many of them may get for this purpose.

Another street car law that should be dug up is the one requiring the calling of streets. This should be especially enforced near junctions while the city is full of visitors. Two fares have often to be paid because of the violation of this law.

SEA WALLS AND OTHER WALLS.

The press of the country is congratulating Galveston, and with reason, on the completion of her great sea wall, which is five miles long, 16 feet thick at the base, 5 feet thick at the top and 17 feet above mean low tide.

This wall is expected to make Galveston safe from tidal waves and floods. Had it been in existence in 1900 thousands of lives would have been saved.

The tornado which swept over St. Paul and Minneapolis a few days ago wreaked many buildings. It tore off cornices and smashed the windows of skyscrapers. But the walls of the massive structures were not damaged, although the wind attained a speed of 150 miles an hour.

After the heavy wind which wrecked certain manufacturing buildings in North St. Louis last Friday, it was stated in the papers that the damage would all be repaired in nine or ten days.

Galveston profited by her bitter lesson. When will other cities take steps to lessen the loss of life from tempest by inaugurating an era of substantial building? If is, of course, impossible for the man of small means to put up a massive steel building. But all factories and other buildings where numbers of workers are grouped should be substantially built. Why should not the factory, as a rule, be as strong as the skyscraper? In the case of stores, public halls, residences and even churches, would it not be well to keep this question of greater safety from storm always in mind?

The ancient and modern make a pleasing contrast in the coming Sunday Post-Dispatch, in which the first color page represents the Olympian games in Greece 25 centuries ago, and a page in black and white, fully illustrated, gives the reader a comprehensive revival of this athletic festival, on a grand scale, at the World's Fair. The last color page of the Magazine is a reproduction of a photograph, showing a pretty young white girl giving Geronimo the pipe of peace. It is a wonderful study in opposites of human type. Adab, the oldest city in the world, supposed to be the site of Eden's garden, is pictured and described. A 13-year-old bride, one of a family who have had many child-brides, will interest the women readers. Also the page describing and picturing the jewels which Mrs. Ogden Goetzel believed were stolen. Many other articles concerning new, striking and valuable things make a Magazine that will please every reader.

SOMETHING FOR NOTHING.

An inquiry instituted by the Insurance Press of New York into the causes of defalcation and breach of trust—the conclusion of which is printed in Thursday's Post-Dispatch, discloses two leading vices: Speculation and sensuality in some form.

This conclusion will not be seriously disputed. Bank cashiers, tellers and men holding positions of similar high trust in which they handle large sums of money, go wrong oftenest by way of the stock exchanges. They "borrow" from funds entrusted to them and lose it in the wheat pit or exchange. Such men always do business in large figures, and their fall is more specious and startling than the peculations of petty embezzlers.

But large business or small, it all comes of a desire to get something for nothing.

This is the besetting sin of the times—something for nothing.

The gambling feature aside, this desire to beat justice and the law of compensation is, as the late John P. Altgeld points out, the source of a large part of human misery. Mr. Altgeld believed he had found a law, the natural working of which brings sure retribution whether the culprit is caught or not. He is sure to feel, either in his health or his reputation or his fortune, the effect of the poison—the desire to get something for nothing.

It is worth while?

A man gains a great fortune by a lucky turn in the market. In what way is he benefited? Does it enlarge his liberty? Rather does it restrict his activities and enslaves him. He has one more care—a big care. Does it enlarge his manhood by widening the range of his experience and vision? Rather does the lust of something for nothing diminish his range and confine him to one topic of thought. The humanities are lost in the accumulation of things.

If it is a law natural that the vice of getting something for nothing always brings punishment in its train, every man in a position of trust should ponder it well. You may "win" in the double sense, "you cannot escape the evil consequences."

IS EDUCATING THE FILIPINOS A MISTAKE?

Former Teacher in Manila Believes We Are Committing an Egregious Error in Our Philippine Educational Policy.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

I noticed in your paper a few days a little article concerning the Filipino students in this country. It purported to be a reply to "Western." Having been employed as a teacher in the city of Manila I have made some observations which may be of interest to some people.

1. The Filipino boys and girls up to the age of 12 or 14 are apt, energetic and bright.

2. Above the age of 14 they are as rule, become lazy and sluggish.

3. The whole educational system founded by the American government in the Philippines is worse than useless. It is a crime to waste the money of the Filipinos.

4. The idea of placing one, two or even a dozen American teachers in a town of from 10,000 to 30,000 inhabitants with the hope of educating those people in the English language is absurd. Do you think a half dozen Russian teachers could enter the town of Springfield, Mo., take charge of the schools there and educate the people to speak the Russian language? No. Our country has put the cart before the horse.

5. The only way in which we can educate the Filipinos properly is to bring them to this country and educate them in the same manner that Japan has educated her students in our schools in the schools of Europe. I say very few, because God knows, we have enough negroes already in this country to educate.

6. Neither our schools nor our students will be benefited by the presence of the Filipinos. If you want to build up a good herd or flock you would invariably keep them separate from the scroofs. No people can be bettered by coming in contact with inferiors. Read the history of the Spartans.

7. Neither our schools nor our students will be benefited by the presence of the Filipinos. If you want to build up a good herd or flock you would invariably keep them separate from the scroofs. No people can be bettered by coming in contact with inferiors. Read the history of the Spartans.

8. But, Mr. "Superintendent of the Filipino students in America" insists on being broad-minded; he takes "Westerner" to task for what he terms narrow views. So do I believe in being broad-minded; so broad that I would altogether disregard the inferior races of men and give every opportunity of my life to the superior beings. The intermingling of the best branches of the white race in England produced the best stock of men and women in all Europe. Did the Spaniards improve themselves by mingling with the Filipinos? Not at all. They degradated themselves. The white man is a fool for bearing what has been termed by Mr. Kipling "The white man's burden," and the sooner we free the Filipinos and let them work out their own better for us.

I say the Japanese have come up in the world chiefly through their own efforts and the Filipinos must come up in the same way.

Of course no man of thought expects the Filipinos to make the progress that Japan has made, for, while the Japanese and the Filipinos according to Sir Alfred Russell Wallace, belong to the same race, the Filipinos are in a tropical climate and consequently are less vigorous than the Japanese.

9. I have but little use for the individual or the race that has no pride, no vigor, no self-assertion. If the American negroes would demand a portion of Africa for themselves, they would amount to something. They can never be anything in this country, or among white men, except "hewers of wood and drawers of water." And, if the Filipinos must remain under our rule indefinitely, they, too, will become "hewers of wood and drawers of water."

10. Bring about being broad-minded! If the people of this country are in truth broad-minded, they will in time free the negroes in this country and give them a chance to have a flag and a president of their own.

11. And, lastly, no white women should be allowed to go from this country to the Philippines as teachers, and but few men.

The white man or the white woman who stays in the islands for any length of time, in the language of the soldier boys, goes "buggy."

The thought of empire seems to have turned the head of one of our most eminent judges. His stay in the islands has injured him. I humbly beseech my countrymen to drop this shadow—this vampire and return to good, wholesome living and sanity.

EASTERNER.

Mr. Casey's Pertinent Remarks on Our Ingratitude.

"I see, McDonald, as how th' Ee-tal-yuns hev a kick awf th' way they're treated here at th' Fair," said Casey, making a spiteful slash with a hand scythe at the Dutchman's breeches blooming at the hour hand of the floral clock.

"Awful, Casey man, they had to das soomthin', fr they noo want to be over-

"They say as how they've been slighted. McDonald. Naw wan, they say, has invited them out, an' naw wan has called t' find them in. Th' Ee-tal-yun lathies say they haven't had anny poonch over at th' winmin's buildin'. They don't know th' color iv Mrs. Dan Manning's cards. Nawbally said anything to thin about comin' over an' seein' how the Prince Pu Lun braided his hair. McDonald. They didn't get in own wan iv th' Alice Russell recyscriptions. Th' night whin society was breakin' its back doin' th' handin' thing fr Jawn Hay, th' descendants iv Julius Sayer an' th' Impayor Vespaehous was coolin' their wrath over a fisher iv ice wathin' in their own buildin'. Wad ye credit it. McDonald, Prisidint Francis has never been within wan hundred feet iv th' Ee-tal-yun buildin'. Niver wanst has his handsome hid partid th' rich Florentine poortheirs an' said: 'How are yez, min' winmin' in the adopted country iv Mary-yoon? Crawford, how are yez? Niver wanst had th' portly fayture iv Mrs. Donahue appen' in the doorway iv th' Ee-tal-yun structures an' said: 'La-thies, won't we come over t' th' winmin's buildin' an' hav soon in our wan hundus' thousand dollar poonch?'

Nawn iv these things hev they done at all, at all. Th' Ee-tal-yuns hev been passed up as cool as a dawg's nose. McDonald. It's a plain case. Th' Ee-tal-yun la-

a Dago comes up to me, an' he says: 'Mista Casey: I have wan peanutta stand. Can I put it in fronta your saloon?'

"Not awn your tin-typa you don't put no peanutta stand in frawn' iv me," I said.

"McDonald, that night my little boy Mike come home fr'm the Brothers' School. 'Papa,' said he, 'do you know who discovered Ameriky?' Oh, friend, the first policeman in Ameriky, said I. Didn't he discover it?" No, sez th' intelligent bye, "it was discovered by an Ee-tal-yun named Christopher Klumbus." "What?" says I, "a Dago?" "Yes," said the bye, "I learned it at school today."

"McDonald, I wint opt an' hunted 'til I found that Dago I had refused an' had almost put kibosh on because he wanted me to let him put his peanut stand in frawn' iv me place. When I foun' him I says, come awn, yez can hev th' saloon an' I'll go out on th' walk."

"That's the way I've always felt about th' Ee-tal-yuns, McDonald. An Ee-tal-yun discovered Ameriky. If it had not been for wan single Ee-tal-yun, McDonald, we wad all be across th' wather today, wukkin' like hell fr' nawthin'. Ye wadn't be over here to fair makin' forty dollars a month easier than ye ever made anny mawmey after a year life. I wadn't be here gettin' 'im dollins' a week fr' lookin' after th' clock an' makin' another th' on th' side payplut' what time it says and pickin' thim a posse off th' face iv it fr' a snoover. Naw McDonald, not awn yere bagpipe. Ye wad be in Scotlan' thryin' to grow-huckwheat an' a rock an' I wad be in Ireland doin' sth' fr' rent. Think what we owe th' Ee-tal-yuns! McDonald, an' thin think how we're rayoutplatin' th' debt. 'Tis wan gr-reat outrage, McDonald."

"Wh' buildin' is the Italian buildin', Casey? I canna remember to hav kenned it."

"Fash an' it's meself couldn't tell ye, McDonald, but I think 'tis th' Horticultural Buildin'."

Ainslee's for September.

Ainslee's for September continues the steady progress in quality which is a remarkable feature of this magazine during the current year. A new departure is the beginning of a serial and the publishers have been fortunate in inaugurating this novelty in having a story by Agnes and Egerton Castle, which has all the characteristic charm of their delightful writings.

It is called "The Heart of Lady Anne." The complete novella has not, however, been sacrificed. The one for this month is "Her Brother's Tutor," by Caroline Duer.

The magazine also shows its determination to keep abreast of the times by offering to its readers a new story by Margaret Sutton Briscoe, entitled "Philanderings," the character of which is such as to make it a feature. Humorous fiction is represented by exceptionally good stories by Joseph C. Lincoln, who contributes "The Boojoo Man," and Holman F. Day, whose story, "For the Hand of the Widow Judson," is a lifelike sketch of the down east Yankee. There are many other stories equally good.

The fourth of the series on social life in American cities is as interesting as its predecessors. It is "The Social Side of Philadelphia." (Ainslee's Magazine Co., New York, 15 cents.)

Southern War Songs.

H. M. Walker, of D. O., who was a private in Gen. Lee's army, has collected and arranged, in a handsome volume, the most popular and impressive songs and poems of the war, by southern poets and singers, under the title "War Songs and Poems of the Southern Confederacy."

Here are 404 pages of songs and poems, showing how prolific were the times in poetic sentiment, and how enthusiastic and full of faith were the bards of the southland. If any verse could have conquered, the resources and numbers of the federal government would have been used in vain.

Not the least interesting feature of the book is the introduction, recounting the compiler's experiences during the war, and the volume has 48 full-page engravings representing famous Confederate names and monuments. It is published by the John C. Winston Co., Philadelphia, and is a fine example of the printer's and binder's art.

David Graham Phillips's New Novel.

Our new novel, "David Graham Phillips," is to begin in the October "Success." It is entitled "The Plumb Trunk or the Confession of a Politician." Mr. Phillips is the author of "The Cost," "Golden Fleece," and "The Master Rogue."

H. L. Wilson's Career.

Harry Leon Wilson, whose new novel, "The Seeker," is published by Doubleday, Page & Co., has had a varied career since his boyhood on an Illinois farm. He was a printer, a newspaper reporter in California with an ambition to write a history, and a western railroad man when he was beginning to be recognized as a literary writer. He became associate editor and later editor of "Puck." His first novel, "The Spy," was an immediate success, and even greater achievement followed when he wrote "The Price of Oil" in September. McClure's

The most curious feature perhaps of this question of the Standard Oil Company and the price of oil is that there are still people who believe that the Standard has made oil cheap.

Men, look at this chart and recall that back in the late sixties and seventies they paid 50 and 60 cents a gallon for oil, which now they pay 12 and 15 cents for.

Then, they say, is the result of the combination. They do not know the meaning of the variation of the price line, that it was forced down from 1866 to 1876, when Mr. Rockefeller's first effective combination was secured by competition, and driven up from 1877 to 1878 by the union of all sorts of competitive forces—producing independent refiners, the developing of an independent seaboard pipeline—to a point lower than it had ever been before. They forgot these opposing forces were overcome, and the Standard Oil Company was at last supreme, for ten years oil never fell a point below the margin reached by competition in 1878, though frequently it rose. They forgot that in 1889, when for the first time in ten years the margin between crude and refined oil began to fall, it was the rise of American independent interests that did

The limitless scope of the new, swell, exclusive Fall styles, together with the extremely low established Good Luck prices, makes it an easy proposition to buy a new hat, that is not only stylish but becoming—it is a fact proven by experience that every man to whom we have ever sold a hat not only comes for another but tells his friends and brings them with him—

AGED WOMAN HANGS HERSELF

Melancholia, superinduced by breeding over an injury to her foot, sustained in a fall many years ago, prompted Mrs. Burge, of East St. Louis, to end her life Thursday morning about 9 o'clock.

She was found hanging in a smokehouse by her daughter-in-law, but was past all aid.

She was 60 years old, and the widow of Dan Burge, one of Freeburg's best known citizens.

A coroner's inquest jury returned a verdict of death by hanging with suicidal intent.

offering.

An absolute cure has been discovered by Dr. Schiffmann. The remedy is an effectual one cannot be doubted after perusal of such testimony as that of C. W. Van Antwerp, Fulton, N. Y., who says: "Your rubber (Schiffmann's Asthma Cure) is the best drug I ever used. I bought a package of our cured me of Asthma, and have not had it since. I can now go to bed and not feel uncomfortable before I sleep, which I have not done for 35 years and I thank you for the rubber that I now enjoy. I hope that you will sell it, either that others may learn of its wonderful virtue. Sold by all druggists at 50c and $1.00. Send 2c stamp to Dr. R. Schiffmann, Box 891, St. Paul, Minn., for a free sample package."

"One has only to know the twenty-six letters of the alphabet in order to learn everything else that one wishes."

But after all is said and done, it's pretty hard for some of the little ones. The right kind of clothing gives them more confidence than a "heart-to-heart talk" on moral courage.

TWO WIVES CLAIM HIM, BUT BOTH ARE WILLING TO FORGIVE AND FORGET

Former Friend Established Connection of Identity Between Jacob Seidenberg of Boston and Jacob Levy of St. Louis.

MRS. JACOB SEIDENBERG of Boston and Mrs. Henry Levy of St. Louis claim the same man as husband. As a result of their claims, a warrant charging bigamy has been issued against Jacob Seidenberg, alias Jacob Levy, and he is now behind the bars in the city jail awaiting the appearance of a bondsman.

The warrant was not issued because neither of the two women desire to prosecute the man who they say has deceived them. On the contrary, both desire his freedom.
